The CJW Difference
The CJW Team

CJW was formed specifically to provide superior services to a wide range of public and private sector clients. We understand the diversity and uniqueness of each client and, as a result, every step of our relationship will be customized to meet their needs. The CJW team will develop innovative yet practical solutions to meet our client's budget and time requirements. The CJW team will accomplish this objective by integrating the diverse engineering backgrounds of our staff with our state of the art technical, project, and cost management capabilities.

The team at CJW offers a pool of talented and experienced professionals with many years of diverse engineering backgrounds. Collectively we can meet any of your design requirements. We promise to offer you the finest talent, best approach, and optimum value from conceptual plans to final design. Whether you desire our services for a specific project or for an on-call contract we will offer you a cost effective and viable solution for all of your civil engineering needs.

As a full-service consulting source, we are proud to offer On-Call contracts for maximum client flexibility. These agreements allow communities to call on CJW for individual assignments or major projects, making it convenient and cost effective for clients to address diverse and recurring needs.
